

Mar 29, 1865

With the force immediately under him, Grant had, besides Sheridan, an efficient coadjutor in Meade, and good corps commanders in Warren, Humphreys, Ord, Wright and Parke.
At the commencement of the Appomattox campaign, he had an army of 116,000 effectives while Lee mustered 52,000.